Need a copywriter or email marketer on your side?

Hello ,

I saw your company when searching for garage doors on Google. Great web presence! I did some research and you've got a fair sized team so I trust business is going well.

But do you want more leads this time of month? I know January / February are typically slow months for any business.

Pick up the slack with email marketing! An email campaign for a home services business similar to yours generated an additional 23,000 inbound calls over one year.

I can work on a performance basis. No cost to you. Nothing up front. The catch is you must already have a (neglected) email database of past customers or opt-in subscribers that you'd like me to nurture.

If you're interested, let me know! Reply to this email or book a meeting on my calendar:
